Chris Riddell

Futurist. Optimist. Catalyst.
Digital Strategist, Advisor
Keynote Speaker

Making unique connections and unlocking new perspectives to form a compelling case for a future that will be better than today

CHRIS RIDDELL

Chris Riddell is in a category all of his own: neither a typical futurist, nor a traditional motivationalist. He combines rigour and insight with heart and energy, to provoke, inspire and surprise.

For over 15 years, Chris has worked with some of the largest and influential businesses and brands on the planet to help them make sense of the uncomfortable and challenging world of 'the future' and making the case for excitement, motivation and optimism.

And there's never been a more critical time for optimism— and moreover, optimism with rigour. Chris' obsession with data, detail and insights— making unique connections and unlocking new perspectives— forms a compelling case for a future that will be better than today.

Future/Reset 2020:

This is not the new normal. This is constant change.
This is a world moving faster than ever before.
This is the beginning of an incredible, reimagined future. This is the Never Normal.

And it's the biggest opportunity we've ever had. The opportunity to shape what we do next—as businesses, as communities, as humans—because our actions over the next three years will define the next century. This is the time to reset, for your new future. The only question remaining is 'What will be your next move?'

Speaking Topics

01. THE NEW CUSTOMER

What will the customer of 2030 look like... think like... behave like? And can we predict their needs before even they know what they want?

02. REINVENTED BUSINESS

When our 'business as usual' is anything but... how can we continue to grow, thrive and innovate? What could incredible business look like amidst the incredibly unusual?

03. RESILIENT LEADERSHIP

With the world at a precipice—how can business leaders reinvent themselves, and embrace real-time decision making for the challenges ahead?

04. FUTURE TRUST

How can we build enduring consumer trust in an age where we gain digital leverage by merely pushing the “Enter” key?

05. RADICAL INNOVATION

In this new era of innovation, how can we identify drivers of future trends, and develop new product and service ideas to drive rapid growth and innovation?

06. HYPER DISRUPTION

What are the key trends that will determine a path forward amidst a chaotic and fluctuating world—and how can we embrace this volatility?
