his views

Jim has been called many things; controversial, outspoken, irreverent ... but his success has been indisputable and most of his predictions have proved to be right.

Jim Rogers is literally a legend in his own lifetime, evolving from fabulously successful Wall Street investor to global adventurer and speaker. He 'retired' at 37 to travel the world on a motorbike – something that helped to refine his investment philosophy; to get out from behind the computer screens and get out into the real world to see where opportunities lie. Jim is a firm believer in long-term investment in commodities, agriculture and in Asia. Above all, he is a bull on China.

Jim candidly shares his observations, stories of his success, his strongly-held views on today's financial systems, political leadership and modern economic thinking.
